Golf Course Irrigation
Your investment. Our commitment.

ONE WORLD ONE GAME

ONE COMPANY

At Toro, golf is our business.

In every country and culture, golf enthusiasts are passionate about their sport. So are we. At Toro, our focus is on helping you build and maintain golf courses that offer the world's finest golf experiences. Golf course turf care has been our business since 1921.

Why do more golf courses around the world choose Toro?

Toro is committed to serving the needs of every golf property, large or small, in every region. We supply irrigation for thousands of golf courses worldwide. We have products, services and expertise for every climate, every application, and every type of terrain.

In every country and every language, Toro is associated with golf.

Phase 1

Phase 2

Phase 3

Phase 4

Golf is far more than a game to Toro.

Nothing is more important to the well-being of your course than a proper irrigation system. Irrigation is the heart of every golf course and provides the lifeblood (water) to ensure that your course will come alive quickly and thrive in all conditions. Every day after, your Toro irrigation system performs the vital function of feeding the turf even when nature doesn't.

From the ground up, we'll help you build a winning course.

INNOVATIVE SOLUTIONS THAT DELIVER HEALTHY TURF

Take pride in your golf course.

To us, a beautiful golf course reflects a job well done. We want you to present your course with the same kind of pride. Count on Toro for irrigation products and support that help your golf course look its best every day.

Delivering value that really counts.

It won't take long to see and feel the value of installing a Toro irrigation system. Hearing your guests, colleagues, friends and family rave about the beauty of your golf course will prove that there is no better partner to have on your side than Toro.

SUPPORTING THE FUTURE OF GOLF

Investing proudly in the sport and in the golf industry. Turf care is our only business, and we have focused our extensive resources on the golf industry for more than 80 years. We support the business and the sport. We give back to the industry that has been our livelihood and passion for over eight decades.

Toro is a leading supporter of numerous industry organizations that foster ongoing education for professional greenkeepers. We also underwrite scholarship programs and internships to nurture the careers of aspiring greenkeepers from around the world.

Toro is proud to be the official equipment supplier for The First Tee® program, that provides youngsters with the opportunity to experience the great game of golf. These enthusiastic young players are your future customers and Toro helps introduce them to the game of golf.

In 1921, we got our start in the turf maintenance business by creating an innovative golf course mower. We've been involved in golf ever since. Today, Toro is the only worldwide provider of both turf care equipment and irrigation systems, and we proudly provide these products and services to golf courses everywhere.
